Searching Academic Search Complete. Academic Search Complete is a multi-disciplinary database, with more than 6,100 full-text periodicals, including more than 5,100 peer-reviewed journals.

Click on Databases A-Z to access any of the library’s online databases.

Databases are listed alphabetically. Choose Academic Search Complete from the list.
You will be asked to log in with your portal credentials.

The default search is a keyword search. Search your topic using any combination of your keywords. Don’t forget to use your Boolean operators.
Click scholarly to limit to scholarly or peer reviewed articles.

Use the limiters on the left to narrow your results.
Choose any subject heading to narrow your results to the number listed.
Follow the blue hyperlink on any article to see the citation and full-text availability. Use the tool panel to print, add articles to your folder, and email the article information to yourself, and cite (always check this feature against your Hacker manual).

By clicking scholarly and the subject heading “law & litigation” we have narrowed our results from 4,395 to 18.

Click “Add to Folder” to add articles to your folder.
Click Sign In to save your folder to your EBSCO account. Don’t forget to do this before leaving Academic Search Complete.

You must “Create a new Account” if you don’t already have an EBSCO account.
Make sure you choose a username and password you will remember.

You can create folders for your classes, save searches, and save articles all within your EBSCO account.